

ABOUT

Janet has considerable experience helping corporate organizations envision new work environments that support and integrate their brand. She is adept at analyzing and leading the Client team to embrace a new work environment which supports their culture.

Through decade-long Client relationships, Janet has been able to guide Clients through the evolution of their businesses, developing design concepts that mirror and support the “best practices” of the organization. Above all, Janet enjoys a challenge and is always excited by turning vision into reality.
