

ABOUT

Lisa believes strongly that every relationship begins and ends with Respect. If we respect our Clients' business goals, and our Clients respect the intellectual and experience-based knowledge we can bring to their business objectives, a successful project is a foregone conclusion.

Her honed design skills, willingness to listen, and strong commitment to execute a design that best fits the goals and objectives of each Client, have become her trademark. Lisa is a LEED® Accredited Professional and works with all Clients to raise awareness for good stewardship of the world in which we live.

Lisa joined Interplan in 2000, as a senior Project Manager, and became a Partner in 2006. In 2016 Lisa became the managing principal within Interplan, upon retirement of our founding partner.

I always enjoy a challenge, strive for perfection, and work tirelessly to have a significant impact on the lives of others.

AFFILIATIONS

- ✓ American Institute of Architects
- ✓ United States Green Building Council
- ✓ National Trust for Historic Preservation

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Architecture with Honors, Carnegie Mellon

NOTEWORTHY

Inspired by Le Corbusier's
Ronchamp Chapel

Loves to laugh

Is an identical twin

Gingerbread

LISA M. LAMP, AIA
PRINCIPAL

EXPERIENCE

Lisa's project experience ranges from base building new construction and renovation projects to specialized interior historic renovations, SCIF environments and restaurants.

A select list of clients includes:

Aurora Flight Sciences
Bender Jewish Community Center
Federal Realty Trust Investment
Foulger Pratt Companies
Holy Cross Health
Lockheed Martin
Minkoff Development
National Association of Community Health Centers
Prince Georges County Association of Realtors
Rakusin & Becker Management
Ronald Paul Companies
RSM US, LLP
Willco Companies